

Rhetorics of Resistance

Texas College English Association Conference CFP
(in conjunction with the annual sessions of the Conference of College Teachers of English)

March 3 - 5, 2022
Midwestern State University
Wichita Falls, Texas

Scholars and creative writers are invited to submit proposals that explore the 2021 Conference theme: Rhetorics of Resistance. This conference's presentations will draw on Texas' rich history of political, social, and public activism and dissent to explore sites of resistance in creative lyrics, lore, and literature, as well as critical analyses of each, including language, drama, film, popular culture, music, dance, visual arts, and photography.

We welcome fresh approaches, scholarly or creative, to the unique experiences of those who have negotiated and continue to negotiate the gendered spaces of our past, present, and future.

Reading/Presentation Time: 15 minutes maximum (about 8 pages). Scholarly submissions (never previously presented or published) may be complete papers or abstracts of 250 words. Poetry, fiction, or creative nonfiction must be complete when submitted.

Blind review process: Submissions will be judged by the TCEA Board through a blind review process. All abstracts, papers, creative pieces, and panel proposals MUST be submitted with two cover pages: one cover page with the title, presenter's name, academic affiliation (or "Independent Scholar"), mailing address, telephone, and email address; and a second cover page with only the title of the presentation. The actual abstract, paper, creative writing, or panel proposal must be titled but bear NO writer identification on any of its pages.

Prizes and publication in CCTE Studies: One presentation will receive a cash prize and be selected for publication in CCTE Studies; all presenters will have the opportunity to submit their works for publication in SCOL: Scholarship and Creativity OnLine, A Publication of the Texas College English Association. Presenters must pay TCEA dues and register before the conference.

CCTE officers and councilors are welcome to submit a proposal to TCEA.
